Driven by his passion for property and international business, Roman founded Athena Advisers in 2003 in a bid to remove the prohibitive cultural barriers present in the international property industry. Athena has now grown into a highly regarded international property sales network and advisory firm specialising in new-builds and refurbished property. Roman spends a lot of his time curating new projects at the inception stage, creating destination-making concepts for property and leisure projects and resorts. He has advised on international property projects in Brazil, France, Morocco & Italy. With a BSc in Management from the Leonardo de Vinci University IIM in Paris, Roman started his first business at the age of 22, a France-based online comparison website which was acquired by PriceRunner.com in 2002. He stays true to his entrepreneurial roots by continuing to invest in and advise on internet start-ups.

João Carvalho das Neves
Professor of Finance and Real Estate Investments ISEG at the University of Lisbon/Universidade de Lisboa

João is a Professor of Finance and Real Estate Investments ISEG at the University of Lisbon/Universidade de Lisboa and the Director of the postgraduate programme in Real Estate Management and Valuation. Dr. Marcus Cieleback
Chief Economist, PATRIZIA Immobilien AG, Germany

Dr. Marcus Cieleback has been Chief Economist of PATRIZIA Immobilien AG since 2008 and became a member of PATRIZIA’s European Investment Committee in 2015. He is based in the Augsburg headquarters. The focus of the work of Dr. Cieleback is the risk-return based analysis and comparison of European and global real estate markets and the development of models for forecasting the commercial and residential markets to develop individual investment strategies. Within these analyses special focus is given to the institutional framework of the markets, especially in the residential sector, as it provides the “rules of the game” and crucially influences the return perspectives. He is a frequent speaker at international conferences and a published author in various international journals. Before joining PATRIZIA Dr. Cieleback worked for the German mortgage bank Eurohypo AG as Head of Research, overseeing their global research activities. Dr. Cieleback studied economics at the University in Freiburg and the London School of Economics, and completed his doctorate at the University of Bayreuth in the area of real estate finance. He is a member of the INREV Training and Education Committee, ULI’s European Residential Council and the German Society of Property Researchers.
